The Germs of Death

By the Editor of Collier's Weekly

It may be maintained that nobody ever dies a natural death. Old age, the premature old age, which is the only kind we know, is a pathological condition. Such are the opinions of Dr. Elie Metchnikoff, not a fakir, but a serious person, who studies things through a microscope at the Pasteur Institute. Each of us swarms with tiny beasts of prey, which travel up and down our body, seeking what they may devour. By attacking our beneficent cells, previously weakened by the unwise life we all lead, they produce an artificial senility, the malady which kills those men whom in our ignorance we call very old. Looked at from Dr. Metchnikoff's standpoint, old age is merely a problem for medical science. How shall we help our beneficent cells in their struggle against the enemy? One way would be to take every baby and cut out his larger intestine, an organ which ought not to have been included in our anatomy. At present this can not be done, as the operation is risky. A second method would be to destroy the beasts of prey. But we do not yet know what they exactly are. Some are a legacy left by our ancestors, immediate and remote, who suffered from heritable diseases. Others, more mysterious, are perhaps the instruments of a sort of essential disease, of that old age which precociously kills all who do not die still earlier of tuberculosis, pneumonia, the bubonic plague, or croup. Until we know more we can only reform our diet, eating little meat or none, and subsisting chiefly on butter, cheese and sour milk. By these imperfect means we may prolong life a little—two hundred years or so. Up to ninety, for example, we may be as active as the President of the United States, and thereafter, for a hundred years more, as reflective as the Prime Minister of England. This would still leave us half a century for art, philanthropy, or croquet. But when death does finally draw near, will not its approach be as distasteful as ever? By no means, says the doctor. Under present conditions death is like an unnatural sleep, which overtakes us early in the day—say before dinner. In the future it will come after a full meal, when the day's work is done.

An Aristocracy in America?

By Anna McClure Sholl

CHIEFLY upon two conditions depends an aristocracy—the continued possession and exercise of power, and the consequent unity of aims and ideals. The aristocratic body in England, for instance, is self-conscious; its members are united by mutual understanding. They acknowledge certain well-recognized laws of life and manners. They depend upon each other to uphold these laws. Individually, wealthy Americans may be both self-conscious and self-assertive, but collectively they are antagonistic to one another. The accumulation of wealth implies struggle, and struggle does not bring forth the kind of qualities which make the gentle and stately men and women of Van Dyck's canvases one great family.

One of the greatest perils of the republic, and one reason why a genuine American aristocracy can never be formed is that a strong class has arisen, without its strength being officially recognized, as in the aristocracy of rank, and certain duties and obligations toward society are imposed upon it by that recognition. For if wealthy Americans lack social unity among themselves, they lack also to a greater degree, the sense of social responsibility, that mark of a true aristocracy. The sense of his public duties, inborn in an English aristocrat, is owing, to be sure, largely to the law of primogeniture, a law which also insures to him that wealth without which the aristocratic ideal can not be perfectly enforced. He is expected to take his seat in Parliament, to give his aid in legislation, to perform certain public duties which have no connection with his own material prosperity. Another bar to unity of social aims and ideals among the wealthy is their frequent lack of genuine culture. To know rather than to feel is the aim, and ideals are not born of knowledge alone. The culture which implies courtesy and humanity—those aristocratic essentials,—is too often lacking.

If this unity of social ideals upon which an aristocracy largely depends does not now exist, is it likely to be evolved out of the present conditions? Its evolution would depend largely upon the permanent power of one class, exercised in the right direction. But though the second condition may be possible, the first can never be. Under conditions peculiar to American life, great fortunes are constantly changing hands. Accumulated by the fathers, they are squandered by the sons, or divided among many children, or lost through mismanagement or speculation. The aristocracy of wealth constantly endangers its position by its very style of living, making large demands on even large fortunes. The law of decay, which eventually protects society from power of whatever nature, operates to disperse wealth so that the powerful class can not be the permanent class, can not therefore form an an aristocracy. It is the safeguard of the aristocracy of rank that its power is mystical as well as material; can never, therefore, wholly perish. Another bar to unity and permanency in the wealthy class is the constant inundation of newcomers. Into the rose-lighted drawing-room may stride at any moment a breezy Westerner, or a member of the first generation, his riches raw upon him.—McClure's Magazine.

The Care of Children's Eyes

By D. T. Marshall, M. D.

ORIGINAL research in a large eye clinic has proved to me that many parents, even of fair intelligence, are extremely neglectful of the eyes of their children.

Either from some congenital defect of the inner eye, or from the presence of squint and the consequent inability to fix both eyes upon an object, the work is thrown upon the better eye, and the poorer eye gradually becomes less capable from mere disuse. It would be well for parents to test the vision of their children by covering first one eye and then the other with a small card or book, and asking them to read some sign or describe some object at a convenient distance. It is often a matter of great surprise for one to find that a child sees very little with one of his eyes. If children having such eyes are fitted with suitable glasses when young, the vision of the poor eye may be made equal to that of the other, and by use become stronger instead of weaker. Children with squint can often be cured without operation by wearing proper glasses.

Very often defects in vision in children are noticed only when they are sent to school. The teacher notices that the child cannot see the blackboard, and so notifies the parents of a defect, which they themselves might have easily observed had they ever given the matter any attention. Since the large influx of Russians, Hungarians and the inhabitants of Southeastern Europe and Syria to this country, there has been, especially in New York, a very large increase in the number of cases of granulated eyelids, or trachoma.

This is a contagious disease which is characterized by the growth on the inside of the eyelids of small granules as large as pin-heads, or larger, which look very much like grains of pearl sago after they have been soaked in water. In some cases this disease gives rise to no symptoms, but in most cases there is sooner or later redness, and sensitiveness to light. Later on there may be clouding of the cornea (the tranparent part of the eyeball), extreme sensitiveness to light, and in extreme cases blindness. Even when the disease gives rise to no symptoms, later in life it may cause a contraction of the inner surfaces of the lids, which causes the eyelashes to turn in and rub on the eyeball, thus giving rise to great discomfort and loss of good vision.

The method of exposing the inner surface of the eyelid is very simple. For the lower lid, the most common seat of trachoma, simply put the finger on the lower edge of the lid, and pull down, at the same time telling the child to look up. To examine the upper lid, take hold of the eyelashes with the thumb and forefinger of one hand, and with the other hand gently press a pencil-point or the edge of a card against the fold above the stiff part of the lid, and fold the lid backward, at the same time telling the child to look down. The eyelids turn back with a snap. It does not hurt. If the inside of the lid is not smooth and clear, the child had better be taken to an oculist for examination. The above method of turning the lid is useful when one is called upon to remove a foreign body from the eye. Cinders and grains of sand do get into the eye, and it is not always convenient to get a doctor to take them out. Turn the lid back, and with a toothpick or hairpin, around the end of which a bit of cotton has been smoothly wound, gently wipe out the offending object. If you have no cotton at hand, wet the end of a toothpick and crush it up, thus forming a kind of brush.

Grains of sand and cinders which are lodged in the cornea are more serious, and usually have to be removed under cocoaine influence by an experienced oculist.—Woman's Home Companion.

NORTH STATE MATTERS

Newsy Items Gleaned From Murphy to Manteo.

Child Fooled With Gun.

Newbern, Special.—One of the most horrible accidents that has occurred in this place in years, took place Thursday morning, in the house of Sam Lancaster, white, keeper of the Neuse river bridge. Lancaster's house is close to the draw of the bridge. It seems that, about 8 o'clock in the morning, Lancaster saw several ducks swimming close to the draw, and he went in and got his gun from the rack, laying it across the bed, in the room in which were his wife and three small children. Lancaster, noticing that the gun contained shot that was too large for ducks, went into an adjoining room to get some shells that were loaded with smaller shot. When his back was turned, Lottie, the eldest of the three children, ran over and picked up the gun; and, when she turned around, with the muzzle facing her mother and sisters, the gun was, in some way, discharged, part of the load taking effect in the head of Manilla, the youngest child, about five years old, completely tearing the left side of her head off. The next child, Winona, about 10 years old, received a large portion of the shot in her back, and a few scattering shots lodged in a picture that was hanging on the wall. Manilla died about 10 o'clock, and Wilnona, who was shot in the back, is seriously wounded, but, it is thought by the attending physicians, she will recover. One of the most remarkable incidents connected with the affair is that the shot that went in the wall slightly grazed the neck of Mrs. Lancaster, the mother of the children. The children that were shot were standing at the lap of their mother when the gun was discharged.

Mill Merger.

Concord, Special.—The following call has been issued: "The committee that was appointed at the last meeting of the North Carolina Manufacturers' Association at Greensboro, N. C., believing that the conditions of trade and the future of manufacturing calls for some united action to curtail production, do hereby call a meeting of all the cotton manufacturers of North Carolina to meet at Charlotte, N. C., on Tuesday, December 8th, 1903, at 12 m. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested cotton manufacturers in the United States, who feel an interest in the welfare of the cotton manufacturing business, to be present at the place and on day mentioned above.

Yours truly,

"J. M. Odell, W. A. Erwin, Alfred Thompson, Stanhope Bryant, J. H. McAden, J. Q. Gant, Committee for the North Carolina Manufacturers' Association."

Safes Cracked at Durham.

Durham, Special.—Sometime during Wednesday night two safes were robbed in Durham. One was the safe in the office of the Standard Oil Company, and the other in the office of the Durham Paper Box Factory. In the first named robbery the robbers secured $160 in money and an old Swiss gold watch, the property of Mr. Paul Collings, an employe of the company, which was valued at $250. From the latter place the robbers secured $2.59 in money. None of the papers were disturbed at either place. The police have no clue.

The Jay Trial.

Asheville, Special.—At the third day's trial of Dr. Jay, for the murder of his children, a number of witnesses for the defense testified as to the man's sanity. Only a half-day's session was held Thursday, Judge Jones allowing a four-hour's recess for those attending court to eat their Thanksgiving dinner. There are yet some 75 or 80 witnesses to testify, and it is expected that the trial will last all of next week.

Robert Munn Goes Up.

Fayetteville, Special.—After being out five hours, the jury returned a verdict at 7 o'clock Thursday night of murder in the first degree against Robert Munn, who killed Isaiah Ray, at Godwin. Munn claimed self-defense, and that Ray had ravished his sister, but, on the deceased, there was found, by the coroner, a bloody letter from this woman, warning the deceased, and arranging to meet him elsewhere. All the parties are colored.

Tar Heel Topics.

Upon the re-convening of Superior court in Salisbury Monday the grand jury filed into court and presented a true bill for murder in the first degree against Thomas J. and Chalmer White, of Concord, for killing Russell Sherrill at the latter's home in Rowan county on September 17th last. The Whites killed young Sherrill because of his refusal to marry their niece, whom it is claimed he ruined, and they have ben out on $25,000 bond.

Governor Aycock commutes to life imprisonment the death sentence of John Flowers, of Wilson county, convicted of outraging his own daughter. Experts report to the Governor that Flowers is but slightly removed from idiocy.

The State Tuesday chartered the Asheboro Chair Company with $15,000 capital.

The board of aldermen met in Raleigh in special session Monday afternoon and elected Wesley N. Jones, W N. Snelling and John A. Mills, dispensary commissioners to serve eighteen months.

Mr. W. C. Dowd, of Charlotte, went to Raleigh Tuesday to ask Governor Aycock to pardon Sylvanus Kendrick, white, sentenced to nine months on the Mecklenburg county roads for receiving stolen goods.

A REMARKABLE SHOWING

Progress of the State Along Industrial Lines the Past Year.

The annual report of the State Commissioner of Labor, which will be issued in January, will contain some very interesting agricultural statistics, arranged in average tables compiled from blanks filled out by representative farmers from every county in the State.

Eighty counties report tendency to smaller farms, six to larger, and eleven no change. Ninety counties report labor scarce, six plenty, and one abundant. Ninety-five report negro labor unreliable, one reliable, and one no negro labor. Forty-six counties report employment regular, and fifty-one not regular.

United Sons of Confederate Veterans.

E. R. MacKethan, Esq., commander of the local camps of Fayetteville of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans and of the Spanish-American War Veterans, and a well known member of the State National Guard, has been appointed commander of the North Carolina Division of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans to succeed Dr. John C. Rodman, of Washington, N. C., who has been appointed to a position on the Department Staff. At a late meeting of the Confederate Veterans a resolution was adopted looking to a closer union between that order and the one above mentioned. It is hoped that this will now be effected. The N. C. Division of Confederate Veterans is now under the command of General J. S. Carr, of Durham.

Destroyed By Flood.

London, By Cable.—A telegram has been received at the Indian office from the viceroy of India, Lord Curzon, saying that, according to reports received at Madras, a flood in the Palar river November 12th destroyed half of the town of Vanizambadi, in the Salem district. Two hundred persons were drowned. The floods, the telegram says, have now subsided.

Prosperous Clothing Factory.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Charlotte Clothing manufacturing Co., held in the office on South Tryon street last week at 4 o'clock, a dividend of 10 per cent. was declared for last year, and quite a handsome sum was added to the surplus of the company. The stockholders were pleased with the evident flourishing condition of the business of the firm. On account of the healthy growth of the business, it was decided to increase the capital stock of the company from $60,000 to $75,000, thus securing a corresponding increase in the output of clothing.

LIKE A DIME NOVEL.

Many Crimes of Three Desperate Young Bandits.

PITCHED BATTLE WITH POLICE.

They Were Wanted for Participation in Chicago Murder Cases—Two Arrested.

Chicago, Special.—Chained wrist to wrist, their hair matted with blood, their clothing with dust and dirt, two beardless boys, Peter Neidermeier and Harvey Van Dine, sat in the presence of Mayor Harrison and Chief of Police O'Neil calmly confessing to their share in a three months' career of crime, which has included eight murders, the wounding of five other men and a long series of robberies. The two young bandits, neither of whom is over 21 years of age, together with their companion, Emil Roeskie, who is no older, were captured near Liverpool, Ind., after a fight in which they battled against policemen, railroad detectives, railroad laborers and farmers. One man was killed, another fatally injured and all three of the young bandits were wounded, but not seriously. The dead man is T. J. Sovea, brakeman on the Pennsylvania Railroad; wounded, Joseph Driscoll, detective on Chicago police force, shot through the abdomen, and can live but a short time; Matthew Zimmer, detective on Chicago police force, shot in head and arm.

Niedermier was wounded in the hand by bird shot; Van Dine was shot and slightly injured, and sustained in addition a flesh wound in the left thigh. Roeskie was shot in the right hip.

The three men were wanted by the police for complicity in the murders at the car barns of the Chicago City Railroad Company on August 30, when two men were killed, a third badly wounded and $2,250 stolen. Gustave Marx, who last Saturday night murdered Officer John Quinn when the policeman endeavored to place him under arrest, confessed after his capture that he, in company with the three men, had committed the crimes at the car barns. The hunt for Van Dine, Niedermier and Roeskie has been hot ever since. Although they knew that the entire police force was looking for them, the three men remained in the city until Wednesday morning.

"We were 'laying' for a fellow that was a witness against Marx," said Van Dine.

On Wednesday they left Chicago, going to a dugout made near Miller's Station, Ind., where they were surprised by the police. Both parties opened fire and Driscoll fell. Van Dine and Roeskie rushed out, followed a few minutes later by Niedermier. The latter ran to the tracks o fthe Michigan Central Railroad and, throwing himself flat on the roadbed steadied his arm on the rail as he kept up a rapid fire with three revolvers. Roeskie ran for the brush, but Van Dine retreated slowly, although the air around him was filled with bullets and the snow at his feet was kicked up by them. He is a splendid marksman and, catching sight of Detective Zimmer, who was behind a tree, he fired. Zimmer went down with a bullet in the head. As he fell, Van Dine fired again and the second bullet tore through Zimmer's arm.

The detectives fired constantly, but the bandits escaped. After running about a mile across country, they came to the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad. A switch engine with a train of cars was close at hand and, hurrying up to it, the men ordered Brakeman Sovea to uncouple the train from the locomotive. He refused and attempted to take Niedermier's revolver from him. The later sent a bullet through the brakeman's head, killing him instantly. Springing past Sovea's body the bandits mounted the locomotive with revolvers in hand and ordered the engineer to move out in a hurry, which he did, going in the direction of Liverpool, Ind. After two miles had been covered, the men ordered the engineer to slow down and, leaping to the ground, disappeared in the woods. After the train had carried Van Dine and Neidermeyer away, Detective Sheehan hurried to the nearest telegraph station and wired Chief of Police O'Neill asking that men be sent out with rifles. The message met with a prompt response, and in a short time. Assistant Chief of Police Schuettler and 50 officers armed with rifles were on the way to Miler's by special train. Capt. Briggs, of the detective service of the Pennsylvania Railway, was given orders to get the three men dead or alive. He and his men were off toward Liverpool.

When the bandits left the train they were nearly exhausted and unable to travel. It was easy to trace them down in the snow and the hunt was speedily ended. The men were seen and the farmers, most of whom were armed with double-barrelled shot-guns, opened fire on them. Neidermier received a full charge in the head, and the blood streamed down his face and into his eyes, blinding him so that he could hardly see. A shot grazed Van Dine's head, and his wounded leg was weakening. The posse was closing in on all sides. There was no escape and it was evident to both men that the time had come either to surrender or to fight it to the death. Van Dine said in discussing his surrender:

"The jig was up for us no matter how many we killed. I says to Pete: 'Well, what do you think?' He nodded his head and dropped his guns and that's how they got us."

North Carolina Won.

Richmond, Va., Special.—Virginia's flaunting orange and blue, fresh from the field of many victories, was trailed in the dust Thursday by the hardy sons of the old North State. At the close of a snappy game, kicked in frozen weather, but clear, the score stood 16 to 0 in favor of North Carolina. It was a surprise to all, and to none more perhaps than to the victorious team itself.

CONGRESSIONAL DOINGS.

The House and Senate Taking Things Deliberately.

The House met Friday, and adjourned until Tuesday. The proceedings were marked by a debate on the motion to adjourn over, during the course of which the minority took the Republicans to task for not proceeding to the transaction of business. Mr. Williams, of Mississippi, the minority leader, protested against the inactivity of the House, asking if a majority were afraid to trust themselves. He said that, while the Speaker had not been able, as he saw, to name all the committees, yet there were matters which the ways and means committee, already organized, could consider, citing among other things, the resolution relative to Canadian reciprocity.

Mr. De Armond, of Missouri, also criticized the Republican majority's course, saying it tended to mortify the President.

Mr. Payne, of New York, upon whose request unanimous consent was given for debate on the motion to adjourn over, replying to the opposition, took occasion to say that the Republicans would hardly care to take up the question of tariff revision and disturb conditions on the eve of a presidential campaign.

He also said the time was not opportune to consider reciprocity, with Canada, as desired by the minority leaders.

There was a party alignment on the vote on the motion to adjourn over, the Democrats voting against it. The motion prevailed, 81 to 63.

Mr. Meyer, of Louisiana, called up his resolution providing for the acceptance of the invitation to the members of the House to be present at the Louisiana purchase celebration, in New Orleans, but objection was made to its consideration. Mr. Bartholdt, of Missouri, made an address on the St. Louis exposition. He reviewed what had been accomplished, and what was being provided for the public.

In the Senate.

The Senate committee on military affairs heard James E. Runcle, of Havana, probably the most important witness that will be offered by the opponents of General Leonard Wood, in their atempt to prevent his confirmation to major general. Major Runice was on the stand several times during the day telling the committee of a dinner at Santiago, Cuba, attended by himself, General Wood and Ray standard Baker, a newspaper man, at which, it is alleged, was planned the magazine article attacking Major General Brooke, that has figured conspicuously in the Wood case. Major Runice was stopped more than once during the course of his testimony and told to give nothing but facts of which he had personal knowledge. This did not exclude his story of the dinner incident, which resulted in the issue of subpoenaes for three other witnesses, among whom is General Brooke. In his testimony, Major Runice complained that he had acted [illegible] confidential adviser of General Wood for nearly two years and that they lived together at Santiago. It was while they were living in Havana that they went to Santiago in search of a magazine article. A meeting was arranged between the three men and a dinner followed, testified Major Runice, at which was discussed the plan to have published an article which would exploit the success of General Wood in dealing with affairs at Santiago and draw a comparison with the situation at Havana unfavorable to the administration of General Brooke.

Murder and Suicide.

Washington, Special.—Robert J. Hale, a compositor in the government printing office, killed his wife, and then committed suicide at their home, in this city, at an early hour Thursday. He had been under suspicion of being responsible for the condition of a young woman, who it is claimed, died a few days ago, as the result of an operation performed at a sanitarium, near this city. He was not related to the girl, but passed as her cousin, and, as such, visited at her rooms. When he read the announcement in the morning papers of the arrest of the physician charged with causing the girls death, he wrote a number of notes, and, proceeding to his wife's room, killed her and himself.

OFFER OF A BRIBE.

Sensational Testimony in Famous Ship Building Scandal

HOW $5,000,000 STOCK IS DIVIDED

Nixon Says He Afterward Recommended Sheldon Plan—Other Testimony.

New York, Special.—Testimony of a sensational nature was introduced at the United States Ship-building hearing which was resumed Tuesday. During the course of his re-direct examination of Lewis Nixon, president of the Shipbuilding Company, Mr. Untermeyer, counsel for the complainants, brought out from Nixon the statement that of the $5,000,000 additional stock issued when the company was re-organized to take Bethehem Company, $1,000,000 went to Max Pam, Mr. Schwab's counsel, and $1,000,000 each to Mr. Nixon, Mr. Dresser and the Trust Company of the Republic, leaving $1,000,000, the disposition of which he did not konw. He did not know whether Mr. Schwab obtained it. It was also brought out that, at the time the Sheldon re-organization plan was under consideration, Mr. Schwab offered to purchase $100,000 bonds, with the accompanying bonus of 25,000 shares common, and 25,000 shares preferred stock, issued to Mr. Nixon for $90,000, while the market value was far less than this, Mr. Untermeyer making the direct charge that this was in the nature of a bribe to induce Mr. Nixon to agree to the Sheldon plan of reorganization instead of the plan for an assessment of stock, which he had previously advocated.

The offer was shown in two letters of Mr. Schwab to Jos. H. Hoadley, dated May 26, 1903, copies of which were introduced in evidence. Mr. Hoadley, it was testified, had conducted the negotiations with Mr. Schwab, when Mr. Nixon was endeavoring to persuade Schwab to accede to the assessment plan and had, after the proposal, urged Nixon to accede to the Sheldon plan. Nixon said that at Hoadley's request he had done so.

The latters are as follows:

"Provided the United States Ship-Building re-organization is perfected I hereby guarantee to take and pay for $100,000 of first mortgage bonds of the United States Ship-Building Company, 25,0000 shares of preferred and 25,000 shares of common stock, for the sum of $90,000, plus interest on said bonds, on or before December 1, 1903. Said bonds and stocks to be deposited with Messrs. McIntyre & Marshall, 74 Broadway, New York, and to be exchanged for securities of the re-organized company, as designated by agreement issued by the re-organization committee.

(Signed) "C. M. SCHWAB."

"Providing the United States Ship-Building Company re-organization is perfected, I hereby guarantee to pay to your order $40,000, amount of payment which has been made to the Sheldon syndicate on a subscription of $100,000 made by Lewis Nixon. I also agree to have said subscription placed to my account and guarantee to have a complete release issued by said Nixon, by said Sheldon syndicate.

(Signed) "C. M. SCHWAB."

"After the date of these letters did or did not Mr. Hoadley get you to accept this plan?" asked Mr. Untermeyer.

"Mr. Nixon explained in answer that Mr. Hoadley advised him to consent to the Sheldon re-organization because Mr. Schwab had refused to accept the assessment plan and that he (Nixon) had threreupon written a letter recommending the Sheldon plan.

"As to my deriving any profit from the transaction, that is nonsense," said Mr. Nixon. "The transaction concerned others and I prefer that they should tell it."

Mr. Nixon testified to writing to Mr. Schwab later and obtaining from him a letter confirmatory of the proposal in the letter of May 26 to Mr. Hoadley. Mr. Schwab's letters stated that the proposal was contingent upon the success of the Sheldon re-organization plan and Mr. Nixon said that he then let the matter drop.

Witness said, in reference to the Sheldon plan, that he felt "greatly irritated" because he thought the president of the ship yards company had not been consulted, and reiterated his statement at the previous hearing, that his only knowledge of the reorganization plan had come from conversations with Mr. Pam.

Train Wrecker Convicted.

Roanoke, Va., Special.—In the Augusta county court at Staunton James Bailey was tried on the charge of murder in connection with the wrecking of a Norfolk & Western passenger train last December, when Engineer Wesley Bailey, of Roanoke, was killed. He was found guilty of murder in the second degree and sentenced to 18 years in the penitentiary. Bailey's mother, indicted for the same crime, will be tried tomorrow. Joseph Kennedy has already been tried on the same charge and convicted of murder in the same degree, but has not yet been sentenced.

Dies of Drugs.

Danville, Va., Special.—A. W. Griffith, of Winston-Salem, died here Tuesday afternoon, from the effects of an overdose of an opiate. The man, who was in the employ of the Dan River Power & Manufacturing Company, had been on a protracted spree for some time. It is not known whether or not the opiate was taken with suicidal intent. It is alleged, however, that the man deserted his wife and little children in Winston-Salem before coming here.

"LAWLESSNESS WALKED THE STATE LIKE A PESTILENCE."

GOVERNOR AYCOCK STATED IN HIS INAUGURAL ADDRESS THAT UNDER, AND THEREFORE BY IMPLICATION IN CONSEQUENCE OF, FUSION RULE "LAWLESSNESS WALKED THE STATE LIKE A PESTILENCE, CRIME STALKED ABROAD AT NOONDAY, SLEEP LAY DOWN WITH ALARM AND THE SOUND OF THE PISTOL WAS MORE FREQUENT THAN THE SONG OF THE MOCKING BIRD." HOW STANDS THE CASE TO-DAY GOVERNOR? HAVEN'T THE ACTS OF THREE RED SHIRT LEGISLATURES AND MORE THAN TWO YEARS OF YOUR OWN BENEFICENT RULE PASSED INTO HISTORY SINCE YOU PROCLAIMED THE FOREGOING? WHEN YOU ARE CAVORTING OVER THE STATE WHOOPING FOR EDUCATION AND ROADS DON'T YOU HEAR OF MORE CRIMES BEING COMMITED IN NORTH CAROLINA THAN EVER BEFORE AND DO YOU CONTINUE TO ATTRIBUTE THESE TO FUSION RULE?

If we have correct reports from Johnston county, and we believe we have, that county will throw off the burden some yoke of democracy in the near future. Much discrimination was used in assessing the property of the tax payers in that county. The tax valuation of some property was doubled, while the property of the democratic township politicians was not increased at all, notwithstanding the real value of some of this property had increased. The consequence is the democratic machine has made enemies of those they discriminated against and many of those who have been voting the democratic ticket heretofore declare they will never do so again Some of the democratic politicians of that county are disgusted with the machine, They say the reason the tax valuation on their property was not raised was because of the work they had done for the party, for what they were expected to do for the machine in the future But unless these men have a change of mind the machine will have to find other men in these parts of Johnston to do their bidding in the future as these men declare they will not do their work any more.

Day by day the more conservative element in the democratic party are waking up to the fact that democratic "good government" is not a government of the people for the people nor by the people and there will be a great breaking away from the democratic ranks in the next election. Thus endeth the first lesson.

FIRST CLEANSE THE FOUNTAIN.

There has been a great stir among the newspapers in Raleigh as to who should manage the whiskey business for the city when the dispensary is established Jan. 1st It first seemed to be a temperance move but it wound up in a great political harangue as to who should have the pie. But then the democrats always get excited when there is any "pie" in sight. The following from the Shelby Aurora gives the News & Observer some very good advice as to the management of the city affairs of Raleigh:

"Speaking of the government of the city of Raleigh the News and Observer remarks that "Where it is not rotten it is inefficient; where it is not inefficient it is rotten."

Everybody knows that Raleigh is a machine ridden city and that the News and Observer is the organ of the machine. The city government owes its being to the machine and as the stream cannot rise above its source, no more can the fruit of machine rottenness be sounder than the parent stalk from which it got its life. If the Observer had spent its years in striving after civic purity and political honesty it would not now be crying out against a harvest that has ripened from seed of its own sowing. Cleanse the fountain and the stream will be pure"

Wonder if Bob Glenn has found that letter he said he received from Grover Cleveland declaring himself to be in favor of free silver?

THE DIVORCE MILL RUNNING OVERTIME.

It will be remembered that among other short comings of the democratic legislature they passed a very lax divorce law The following from Sunday's News & Observer shows the result of such a law in Wake county:

"Of the fifty-three final judgments entered at the last term of the Wake county court, thirteen were for divorce Only one was refused, King vs King being entered as a non suit. There are now said to be on the docket about twelve divorce suits."

This is some more of the (faulty) fruit of democratic "good government" for which the tax payers are forced to pay so high.

The Shelby Aurora thinks that before the democrats ask the people for their votes to continue them in power, they should furnish the voters with a correct statement of the condition of the State Treasury at the time they took charge and now. But the democratic machine has gotten to the point where it thinks it can say the will of people be d—d. If it can't get in power one way it will another.

The Last account we had of Locke Craig he was in Asheville We understand he has abandoned the idea of attending the daily sessions of the United States Senate this winter, as he had intended doing prior to the meeting of the last State Legislature.

As the democratic machine of this state has not rewarded Locke Craig, as they promised to do, for his active part in the impeachment of the judges, he might now apply to the national government for a place as they will need a Lock or two in the Panama Canal.

An exchange says that the democrats who laid the blame upon Mr Cleveland for all their troubles are now ready to try him again. Yes, but Mr Cleveland is not ready to try the people again. He would rather duck hunt than face certain defeat.

And now the democrats are talking Mr Frances D. Winston for Lieut. Governor, but it is not believed by some that he will accept unless Geo. H. White, (col) is given a position in Raleigh also.

Have you paid your taxes for this year? If so didn't you pay more than you did under fusion rule? Do you feel any richer by the operation? Aren't you ready to side track this expensive crowd?

The Graham Tribune puts it this way:

"It is hard to reconcile the tax payer to the size of his forced contribution towards meeting the needs of democratic government"

Some of the papers are in favor of relegating the army canteen to the rear and to establish the army dispensary "for the moral good of the service".

"If Mr. Walter Henry don't soon go over to the Democrats they will conclude that they have wasted a big lot of sympathy."—Shelby Aurora.

He will not do it. He is too big a man for that.

The Mother of a Family Expresses Herself About the Modern Young Man.

"I am going to leave New York for good and all, next week," said a well known woman the other day. "There is no place here for me to live my life. I'm not stout enough to stand against the stampede to the lee side of the deck. If I stay here I shall conform more, and feel that I must have more and more money to spend for new things.

"So I'm going away to some isolated place where I can live with my books, and with my ideas, and with my friendly trees. And I shall bring up my babies with a sense of the resources that may be inside of them. I don't know a young man of thirty who has saved his spring and vivacity. Business and rich men's sports have eaten up his soul. He rushes about in his automobile; he rides his horse; he allots so much time to his yacht; he does his dinners and his dances—but I fail to find the strenuous young business man who has any real spontaneity. He has already lost something, a kind of glory, an open vision. He is rich and clever all in one line, but he is awfully incomplete as a man, and I call that poverty. So I'm going."—From "Successful Men Who Are Not Rich" in Everybody's Magazine for November.

A Search For Truth

In speaking of Presidential timber for next year, the News and Observer says Cleveland wont do; because they have not tried him; he could not carry the South or North west Bryan wont do; because they have tried him; he could not carry a single Northern State Then the Observer closes by saying. they must run a Jeffersonian democrat. Don't that jar you, though? When Cleveland ran, this same Observer, with its same editor, said he was a Jeffersonian democrat When Bryan ran this same Observer out-fit said he was a pure Jeffersonian democrat. The same Observer said both times that their candidate was the greatest man in the party and the only man they could win with. What we want to know is, when did the Observer tell the truth, then or now? For it is evident Cleveland and Bryan have not changed. But the party—oh, well! It changes every campaign. Cleveland sent Mr. Daniels back from Washington to save his State What Mr. Daniels objects to Bryan is, he couldn't send him back to Washington to save the nation.—Hickory Times Mercury

We have had three legislatures by the "good government" party since the Republicans gave up control in North Carolina. They have given us good government with a vengeance. When the Republicans turned the government over to the Democrats they left a surplues of $130,000 in the treasury. In three years the Democrats have squandered that and have raised taxes to the highest limit and have run the State in debt—God only knows how much, but the treasurer is calling for a million dollars to straighten up his business. The tax payers have to plank down the cash for this "good government," whether they like it or not. How does it suit you, brother tax payer?—State Republican.

Then They Prayed.

A preacher at the conclusion of one of his sermons said: "Let all in the house who are paying their debts stand up," Instantly every man, woman and child with one exception, rose to their feet. The preacher seated them and said: "Now every man not paying his debts stand up." The exception noted, a care worn, hungry looking individual clothed in his last summer's suit, slowly assumed a perpendicular position. "How is it my friend," asked the minister. "that you are the only man not to meet his obligations?" "I run a newspaper," he meekly answered, "and the brethren here who just stood up are my subscribers, and—" "Let us pray," exclaimed the minister.—Ex

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

The Effective Remedy

WASHINGTON, IOWA, April 4, 1903.

I was troubled for over a year with so scanty a flow that it was virtually suppression. A heavy cold superinduced this condition and nothing I could do seemed to help me.

The only effective remedy I ever found was Wine of Cardui. Within two weeks I felt the good effects of the medicine and after I had used 13 bottles in all I was as healthy and regular as any woman could wish to be.

My sister used it while expecting to become a mother and found that it made childbirth comparatively easy and after the child was born she found that it helped her to regain her strength.

Wine of Cardui cures the sickness of young girls, relieves the weakness of adults, banishes leucorrhœa, headaches, backaches and nervousness and eases the crisis attendant on the change of life.

Thousands of mothers besides Miss Root's sister have found grateful relief from the pains of childbirth and have had a quick and happy recovery from its use. You cannot afford to suffer when $1.00 bottles are sold by all druggists.

MORE ABOUT THE PARDONING MILL.

It Seems That Some Guilty Ones Have Been Pardoned, While Others Stay in Prison for Smaller Offences.

Adam Brock, a white man serving a term of three years on the county chain gang, for stealing cotton from Mrs. C. C McDonald, of Clear Creek township, has been pardoned by Governor Aycock.

Mrs. McDonald is the mother of Mr. Morris McDonald, register of deeds of Mecklenburg. Brock was convicted at the February term, 1902, of Mecklenburg court, for stealing her cotton, and was sentenced to three years on the chaingang. He has served one year and nine months of his term. The official notification of pardon received by Sheriff Wallace gave no reason for the exercise of pardoning power —Observer.

Messrs Osborne and Guthrie are in Raleigh to see the Governor about a pardon for Walter Daniels, of Charlotte, convicted of gambling. The Governor says there is opposition to pardon and he will hear both sides before taking action in the matter —Observer.

The fiend who has been trying to burn up the town of Rockingham has been caught red-handed and landed behind the bars. He proved to be an ex convict who was pardoned before his sentence was out.—Mountain Scout.

In the case of the "gold brick" men before the Supreme Court this week, one of the attorneys for the prisoners was told that he ought to be satisfied, as one of his scients had been pardoned by the Governor. "The trouble is he pardoned the guilty one,' 'was the attorney's reply.—Ex.

Well, is all these things so? Mr. Daniels can't receive a pardon because somebody opposes. Mr Daniels is only guilty of doing a little gambling. No one was hurt unless be out gambled the fellow the bucked against him. How about the thief that stole the widow lady's cotton? Was any opposed to his pardon? Did Mrs. McDonald sign the petition for Brock's pardon? Not much. Did her son, Mr. Morris McDonald, sign the petition? He says he did not. Did Mr J. L. Choat who brought the cotton from Brock, sign the petitition! We allow not. Did the officer who Brock shot when arresting him sign the petition? Not much. Guess there was no opposition to that dirty scoundrel's pardon that was turned loose on that county before his time expired, and got arrested again for trying to burn up the town of Rockingham. The case of the gold brick fellows, it appears, the guilty fellow was turned loose. Walter Daniels should have assaulted some girl, chipped into the school fund and he could have got a pardon.—Peoples Paper.

BOLL WEEVIL CONVENTION IN LOUISIANA.

How to Stop the Cotton Scourage is the Question.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 30.—Delegates from the parishes of Louisiana gathered here today to take part in the boll weevil convention called by Governor Heard. The meeting will decide whether or not the necessity exists for a special session of the State Legislature to pass laws which will be effective in keeping the boll weevil out of Louisiana. Several addresses were made by cotton growers from Texas and Louisiana.

Congressman Breazeale brought a message from President Roosevelt and Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, announcing their willingness to further any action taken by the convention

All agreed that the same strong action was needed to prevent the scourage crossing the Sibin line, and the only diffence of opinion was as to the legislature required Various committees were appointed and their reports tomorrow will be the means crystalizing sentiment and indicating action. The interest in the matter is shown by the fact that out of fifteen hundred invitations sent out, twelve hundred answers were received, aligning themselves with the movemen .

TWO MEN ARE KILLED IN KENTUCKY.

A Third Man is Fatally Wounded and a Fourth Has His Arm Shattered. The Alleged Murderer Captured After a Desperate Fight.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 30.—A special from Horgenville, Ky, reports the assassination of two men, he fatal wounding of a third, and the injury of another.

The dead:

SQUIRE OSBORNE.

DAVE OSBORNE, son of above.

Wounded:—Will Gardner, will die; John Bennett, arm shattered.

The alleged murderer, Custer Gardner, a young farmer, was caught at Elizabethtown yesterday after a desperate fight and was taken to Munfordville and lodged in jail.

Under cover of darkness, while the intended victims were sitting around the fireside, the assassin crept to the window of the room and placing his Winchester near the glass, fired several times. Squire Osborne fell to the floor dead, his head torn almost off. His son, Dave Osborne, was shot through the heart, and Will Gardner was wounded in the abdomen. John Bunnett's left arm was shattered by a ball.

Squire Osborne is a district magistrate The trouble had its incipiency in a family quarrel, which developed into a factional fight Gardner has heretofore borne a good reputation.

The tragedy has caused the greatest excitement in years in Larue, Hart and Harding counties, where the principals are well known and have many relatives.

THE TRUSTEES MEET AT TRINITY

They Decide Not to Accept Mr. Bassett' Resignation.

The trustees of Trinity College met in Durham Tuesday night and decided not to accept Dr, Bassett's resignation. It will be remembered that Dr Bassett is a member of the Faculty at Trinity College and some weeks ago he wrote an article in the South Atlantic Quarterly, published at Trinity, on the negro question. This article has been criticised more or less by the press or the State. Dr. Bassett tendered his resignation as he did wish Trinity College criticised on his account but as stated above trustees have declined to accept the resignation.

A short illustrated article in the December Cosmopolitan shows that the poorest farmers can accomplish when driven to the last dicth. Home-made wind-mills constructed of box boards, barrel staves. scrapiron and odds and ends of dsscarded threshing-machines and farm implements, costing in cash about thirty cents, heve been made in the prairie states to irrigate farms, pump water for thousands of cattle and sheep, and relieve farmers of what used to be the hardest manual labor.

Statesville; N C, Dec. 1.—James Patton, aged seventy-three, an ex-Confederate soldier who fought in Company "A," Fifty-seventh North Carolina Regiment, was killed about two miles east of Statesville this evening about 3 o'clock, by a freight train, No. 85 Southern Railway, bound from Asheville to Salisbury.

Wilmington, N C, Nov. 30.—Contrary to the expectation of many who had watched the case closely, Judge Brown in the Superior court todsy granted a motion for continuance of the Terry murder case until the next term, which convenes on January 25th, 1994. The continuance was on account of the illness with fever of ex-Governor Russell, one of the leading attorneys for the defense.

Burnad Out His Eyes.

Greensboro, N. C., Dec. 1.—Mr Joe Lewis a well to do farmer residing a few miles from the city had a fit yesterday while sitting in front of his fire at home. He fell in the fire, and before help reached him, was terribly burned Both of his eyes are destroyed.

A capital anonymous character sketch of "Uncle Joe" Cannon, the new Speaker of the National House of Representatives, appears in the December Review of Reviews Whoever he is, the writer has at least the advantage of intimate acquaintances with the career of this interesting and typical American.

"Are you a second hand book dealer?" asked the inquisitive person. "No, air," answered the other person, with some irritation of manner. "I am a dealer in second-hand books."—Chicago Tribune.

Headache

kills, not necessarily suddenly, but surely. It preys upon the intellectual powers more than we realize. It consumes the vitality faster than nature can replenish it, and we cannot tell just what moment a temporary or complete aberration of the mind will result. Headache and pain should be promptly removed—but properly. Many pain cures are more harmful than the pain. Beware. If you would be safe, take

Dr. Miles' Pain Pills.

"As a result of neuralgia I lost the sight of my right eye, and the pain I have suffered is incomprehensible, being obliged to take opiates almost continually. A friend gave me one of Dr. Miles' Pain Pills and it promptly relieved me. I then purchased a box and now my trouble is gone. They have also cured my daughter of nervous headache, and I heartily recommend them to others."—W. J. Corley. Bremond, Texas.

A Ripans Tabule taken occasionally will keep the body clean within, resulting in a healthy and pleasing appearance without.

It is a good sensible plan to keep the body up to the high water mark of good health all the time.

The person who uses Ripans Tabules feels good all the time, they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach in good condition, and when the stomach digests the food properly, the chances of getting sick are lessened.

Odds and Ends.

Although the scientific men of Austria and Germany refused to take the late Rudolf Falb and his weather and earthquake prophesies seriously, his name was constantly in the newspapers, and some are inclined to think that there is a kernel of truth in his theories, which are based on the assumption, that the liquid interior of the earth has its ebb and tide, and is influenced by the sun and the moon.

The new Irish Land Act went into effect November 1, and today large tracts of land were to come into the posession of the tenants, the Government loaning the money for the purchase on easy terms. The tenants will be very energetic in taking advantage of the new law and within a short time many thousands of acres on which they have been paying rent for generations will be theirs to enjoy and to leave to their children.

Miss Rose Peterson, Secretary Parkdale Tennis Club, Chicago, from experience advises all young girls who have pains and sickness peculiar to their sex, to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many beautiful young girls develop into worn, listless and hopeless women, simply because sufficient attention has not been paid to their physical development. No woman is exempt from physical weakness and periodic pain, and young girls just budding into womanhood should be carefully guided physically as well as morally. Another woman,

Miss Hannah E. Mershon, Collingswood, N.J., says:

"I thought I would write and tell you that, by following your kind advice, I feel like a new person. I was always thin and delicate, and so weak that I could hardly do anything. Menstruation was irregular.

"I tried a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and began to feel better right away. I continued its use, and am now well and strong, and menstruate regularly. I cannot say enough for what your medicine did for me."
—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure any woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, and kidney troubles.

THERE IS NO SLICKER LIKE TOWER'S FISH BRAND

Forty years ago and after many years of use on the eastern coast, Tower's Waterproof Oiled Coats were introduced in the West and were called Slickers by the pioneers and cowboys. This graphic name has come into such general use that it is frequently though wrongfully applied to many substitutes. You want the genuine. Farm Topics

VISITING OTHER FARMS.

If we see no other farm but our own, we are liable to become satisfied with our efforts and not make any special attempt to improve them; hence it is a good idea to visit our successful neighbor, see his farm, his buildings, his flocks and herds, and learn something of his plans, and he is "a poor stick" who cannot profit by such visits. There is additional value in the occasional comparison of one's own work with that of his neighbor's, and there is no better time in which to do it than the winter season.—Live Stock Indicator.

PULLETS OR HENS?

A subscriber asks if pullets will give better results as winter layers than hens.

This depends on the age and condition of the pullets. Early hatched, fully matured pullets that begin to lay during October will make the best layers during the winter, while on the other hand late pullets or poorly conditioned pullets will hardly pay for their keeping. Hens not over three years old, which have been given good care and have completed their moult, will begin to lay during October and continue throughout the winter. We should not discard good old hens until after the third year, unless they show a tendency to grow fat and lazy, but if we were selecting layers we should choose pullets.—Home and Farm.

SELECTING A GOOD COW.

When a breeder purchases cows for foundation stock he will always demand three points, individuality, performance and pedigree. Cows with fleshy udders, or small udders, or poor fore-udders, or small teats are to be avoided, as are those also that have short and heavy bull-like necks. The model udder reaches well forward in a graceful curve and extends high up behind. Many beginners make the mistake of supposing that those animals are of a superior type that are dainty and delicate, and lacking in size. As a matter of fact, slender, graceful animals are likely to be deficient in vigor and prove disappointing.

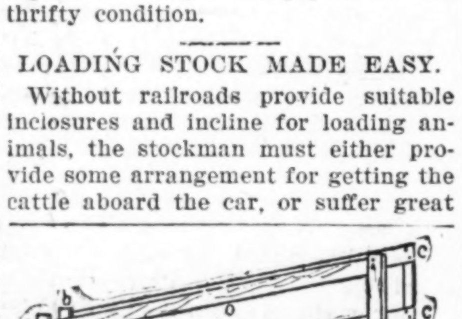
The performance of an animal is one of the best gauges of her value. The average man cannot afford to buy world beaters, but he will do well to pay the additional price which is asked for superior as compared with inferior performers. The record of the animal to a large extent fixes the value.

THE PIG FROM AFAR.

When a man receives a pig by express, if it has been long in crate, when taken out it should be given a drink of water and put in a pen where it can rest, says W. E. Spicer, in Swineherd. If it appears very tired let it rest some, then give it a half feed of some good slop made of bran, shorts, ground oats and corn, or what you have for it. Don't fill it too fast. If the pig has come in from a long journey and is very gaunt and tired it will not want much feed for the first few days. Don't keep feed before the pig at this time. If it does not eat the feed take it away and let it wait until the next feeding time. Don't get the pig stalled on the feed at this time. Of course, a pig that has made only a short trip can be filled up in a short time and not hurt it. I can't give any rules that can be followed in all cases without deviation. The feeder must use his judgment in each case. The thing to guard against is not to fill the pig too fast and thus clog the digestion and get the pig in an unthrifty condition.

LOADING STOCK MADE EASY.

Without railroads provide suitable inclosures and incline for loading animals, the stockman must either provide some arrangement for getting the cattle aboard the car, or suffer great inconvenience. A substantial contrivance for loading animals is shown and described below. Two posts, two by four by six and a half feet, a a, two posts, two by four by four feet, b b, and two two by four floor stringers, the necessary floor boards, four side boards, o o, and two braces, d d, are used.



DEVICE FOR LOADING ANIMALS.

The length of the chute depends somewhat on material at hand, but ten feet is a good length. Width of chute should be same as wagon box. Bolts should be used at c c c, on both sides, as nails are almost certain to work loose, or tear the flesh of animals. Double cross pieces should be used under the floor at both ends, and near the centre. Two men can carry such a chute and place it in a gate or doorway easily.—E. Hollenbeck, in Farm and Home.

Convicted of Planning Wreck.

Staunton, Va., Special.—Mrs. Ellen Bailey was found guilty of planning the wreck which occurred on the Norfalk & Western Railroad, at Greenville, last December. The jury fixed her punishment at 10 years in the penitentiary. Her son, James Bailey, and Joseph Kennedy have been convicted of wrecking the train. Bailey was condemned to serve 18 years in the penitentiary, while the jury, in the case of Kennedy, brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree.

Weather Vane 100 Years Old.

H. W. McIntyre of Randolph, Vt., has a unique relic in the shape of a weather vane that is nearly 100 years old. This weather vane was put on the Orange county grammar school nearly 100 years ago, when the school was dedicated in 1806, and is in good condition to-day. For sentimental purposes this same relic is to be placed on the new school building at Randolph Center.

The Brittanic, which has just been sold to be broken up for junk, between 1874 and 1892 made some 260 voyages between New York and Liverpool, crossing the Atlantic more than 500 times. It traveled about 1,800,000 miles, or enough to take it more than 70 times around the world, and carried more than 200,000 passengers.

Dish Washing in Winter.

Housekeepers naturally dread dish washing in winter, owing to the fact that it chaps the hands and renders them hard and rough. Much of the injury, however, results from the use of impure soap. If Ivory Soap is used in washing dishes and the hands are carefully rinsed and dried, they will not chap.—ELEANOR R. PARKER.

Horses for German Army.

A German military report, just issued at Berlin, says that the German army, in case of war, will require 583,000 horses. According to the latest census there were 4,921,000 horses in Germany at the end of the last year, and the report states that it would be difficult to secure all the necessary horses at the outbreak of a war. The authorities, therefore, recommend a large introduction of automobile cars, which, the report says, could be used to great advantage for the transportation of ammunition, food products, etc.

It is reported that of the eighty or more beet and cane sugar factories of Spain, all except two or three have just been merged in a Sugar Trust. The former finance minister, Lopez Puigcerver, has been elected chairman of the board of directors. The beet sugar industry of Spain, although comparatively young, is already far more important than the cane sugar industry. The two together produce almost 100,000 metric tons annually, some of which is exported.

FIRST KIDNEY PILL MADE.
THE ORIGINAL DISCOVERY.
THE ONLY GENUINE.

WM. H. NEIGHBORS, the well-known jeweler of West Main Street, Wytheville, Va., says: "Some four years ago an attack of grip settled in my back, and I have suffered off and on ever since with a dull, heavy aching across the small of my back, always more severe in the morning. It was difficult for me to stoop or straighten, and if I sat down for any length of time it was hard for me to arise. I took two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and the dull, disagreeable aching left me."

H. B. MCCARVER of 201 Cherry Street, Portland, Oregon, inspector of freight cars for the Transcontinental Company, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble which had annoyed me for months. I think a cold was responsible for the whole trouble. It seemed to settle in my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills rooted it out. It is several months since I used them, and up to date there has been no recurrence of the trouble."

MRS. GEORGE WALLACE, Jr., of Elmira, N. Y., wife of George Wallace, broker, of West Water Street, and living at 667 Baldwin Street, says: "In March, 1897, I was cured of kidney and bladder trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills. My physician said at that time that my life could be saved only by an operation. Night after night I had been kept awake for hours at a time with terrible pain in my back, and the secretions from the kidneys were in as bad a state as possible. I suffered with hemorrhages frequently and was in a weak state. Four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me, and I now gladly reendorse the remedy, because during the time which has since elapsed, nearly seven years, I have never had the slightest sign of a return of the trouble."

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

The Portland (Me.) Press observes: An interesting scrap of information comes from Washington to the effect that the Agricultural Department proposes to test the merits of the South American plant known as "eupatorium re bandenum," for sugar making. Not to know eupatorium may be to argue oneself ignorant, but the name looks fishy. It is possible, however, that the plant is destined to beat the beet and raise Cain with cane.
